The firm is owned and staffed by investigative and intelligence collection specialists with broad international experience in both overt and covert operations. All intelligence and countermeasures operatives are rigorously prepared and well equipped for their respective assignments. The firm's owner and all members of the firm's investigative cadre have been trained and employed by, or are currently contracted by governmental agencies to perform intelligence, counterintelligence or defense contract functions. The operative members of Poindexter Global are licensed where appropriate, and possess an average experience level of 15 years in various investigative and countermeasures fields. The firm strongly encourages continuing education and provides ongoing internal training to all active employees. Poindexter Global Intelligence solutions can accomplish service of legal process in any of over 100 sovereign nations. Service is effected either by internal staff dispatched for that specific purpose, or by a properly vetted agent or affiliate of our offices. We offer both 'service by agent' as well as service through a method compliant with the Hague Conventions.
